HOUSE OVER-RIDES TAX VETO

STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS
FEB 25 1944
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

Vote Against FDR Is 299 to 95

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (INS)—The House overrode President Roosevelt's veto of the new tax bill today, in a defiant revolt marking the most serious Administration split in New Deal history. The vote was 299 to 95.

BARKLEY ACCEPTS RE-ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (INS)—Senate Democrats today unanimously re-elected Sen. Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky as party leader. His colleagues accepted his resignation, submitted after a break with President Roosevelt over the tax bill veto, but immediately voted him back into office.

Barkley accepted the re-election.

2 Barkley Still Says 'I'm Out'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley emerged grim-faced from a Democratic conference today and announced: "I have resigned" as majority leader of the Senate. Half an hour after he had entered the conference, the Kentuckian came out again, announcing: "I have asked Sen. McKellar to take my place this morning."

House Battles Vetoed Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—In the fury of its open battle with the White House, Congress assembled today to hand President Roosevelt a resounding rebuke by overriding his veto and writing a $2,300,000 new tax bill on the statute books.

As the House met to take first action, even the President's closest friends conceded they were helpless to stave off an avalanche of votes against the President—that perhaps no more than 100 of the 429 members would stand to sustain him.

The Senate probably will defer its vote until Friday.

Rep. Doughton (D.) of North Carolina, 80-year-old chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, declared he and Mr. Roosevelt had "parted company" on the present issue.

Doughton's statement coincided with the resignation of Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as Democratic leader of the Senate, over the same issue.

NEW TAXES CERTAIN

The immediate effect of the uprising is that the new revenue bill undoubtedly will become law.

This will raise the government's wartime income above $42,000,000 annually. The statute would provide:

1—An increase in individual income taxes of $664,900,000.

2—Much higher excise levies on so-called luxuries, including a boost in the liquor tax from $6 to $9 a gallon, effective April 1. This will yield an additional $1,051,300,000.

3—Postal rates boosted in several categories, to the extent of $96,900,000. However, the out-of-town letter rate remains at three cents.

4—The Social Security payroll tax frozen at 1 per cent for employer and employee, instead of rising to 2 per cent each.

VICTORY TAX STAYS

5—Numerous changes in the war contracts renegotiation law, including an amendment which opens the way for contractors to appeal to the courts for renegotiations they consider unfair.

6—The corporation excess profits tax is raised from 90 per cent to 95.

Individual income tax changes would not affect the 1943 returns due this March 15. Henceforth, however, taxpayers would not be allowed the customary 10 per cent credit for earned income, nor would they be allowed to make deductions in income tax computations for Federal excise taxes they have paid.

The victory tax becomes a flat 3 per cent levy on individual income over $624 a year, without regard for family status.

Labor unions, farm co-operatives and other organizations not subject to income tax would be required to make annual financial statements to the Treasury.

No Color Line

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 24 (AP)—A colored girl was chosen queen of the West Chester State Teachers' College mid-winter formal dance, 90 per cent of whose student body is white.

Six white girls who lost the title to her in a student election formed her court at the ball. The queen was Miss Rosalie Terry of Philadelphia.

Shanghai Hears Of Move to Oust Tojo

CHUNGKING, Feb. 24 (AP)—Reports from Shanghai by the Central News Agency declared today that "a movement to overthrow Premier Tojo is spreading throughout Japan," where conditions were said to be growing "increasingly unstable." The reports were attributed to Japanese in Shanghai.

Raid Kills Nazi General

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 24 (AP)—Gen. Fritz Kuehn, a German commander of armored forces, was killed in an elevator during the Allied raid on Berlin on Feb. 16. Aftonbladet's Berlin correspondent reported today.

Barkley explained later he meant he had asked McKellar of Tennessee to reside in his place at today's conference only. The other Democratic Senators remained behind in the conference chamber.

There still was the possibility that they might reject Barkley's resignation and insist that he stay at the helm. Before the meeting, there was almost a universal anticipation that would be the outcome.

Barkley's dogged insistence on resigning the post he has held for seven years—nearly twice as long as any other senator—was taken as an indication of the gravity of his break with President Roosevelt over the tax bill vote.

BARKLEY CHEERED

Barkley told the Senate yesterday he was quitting to save his "self respect."

Cheers and rebel yells broke out among Democratic senators as Barkley walked into the conference.

Thirteen minutes later for the 10:30 a. m. conference, Barkley walked solemnly down the hall to the tumultuous reception.

"Nothing to say," he told reporters.

Barkley emerged today probably the most potent Democratic presidential possibility outside the White House as a fighting-mad Congress rallied behind him in his break with the President.

With Allied capitals around the world looking on, a domestic drama of far-reaching implications rose to crescendo pitch as members of the nation's dominant party took sides in the most serious challenge thus far to Mr. Roosevelt's leadership.

Barkley's Senatorial colleagues virtually guaranteed him a smash-vote of confidence as they met to reject his resignation as

NAZI SCOUTS FLY OVER LONDON RUINS

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Smoke from fires set by German night raiders still rose over London today as Nazi reconnaissance planes flew boldly over the city and touched off the first bona fide day alert the capital has experienced in months.

Appearance of the German scouts, apparently checking damage done in the fourth sharp raid on London in six nights, underscored an RAF commentator's warning that the Luftwaffe has shifted strong bomber formations to France and presumably is ready to continue the current series of streamlined attacks.

Anti-aircraft guns roared into action as two enemy planes were spotted streaking over the capital at high altitude shortly after the breakfast hour.

Thousands of incendiaries and many high explosive bombs were showered on the capital last night, causing dozens of deaths and widespread damage. At least four of the raiders, most of which attacked from a great height, were reported downed.

Anzio Guns Break Up New Nazi Attack

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 24 (AP)—Fighting again flared on the Anzio front, with artillery breaking up German groups preparing to attack in front of American troops west of Cisterna and Allied troops repulsing Nazi attempts to infiltrate their lines southwest of Carroceto.

The air force swung over the coast of Italy and Yugoslavia, showering bombs on enemy shipping.

Patrol actions and sharp exchanges of artillery fire continued on the main Fifth Army front in the Cassino area. Allied shells apparently hit German munitions or gasoline dumps in the mountains northwest of Cassino. Explosions were observed in three places.

German planes continued to bomb and shoot up beachhead troops until noon, but rain in the afternoon kept them on the ground. Heavy cannonading resounded from both lines throughout the day.

Marianas Hard Hit By Carrier Planes

By CHARLES McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 24 (AP)—The war's first blow against the Mariana Islands, deep within Japan's defense ring, was dealt powerfully Tuesday by hundreds of planes from aircraft carriers, sent out by Rear Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, who lashed at Truk last week.

The bombing of the Marianas, 700 miles northwest of Truk and 1300 miles south of Tokyo, occurred on the same day that invasion forces completed a six-day conquest of Eniwetok atoll, western Marshalls air base.

Admiral Mitscher, who captained the carrier Hornet from which the Doolittle bombers took off for Tokyo, presumably led in the daring Mariana operation. Radio silence precluded details as to whether the Mariana raiders sank any warships in Tanapag harbor at Saipan island. Tinian, a naval air base, also was a target Tuesday.

Capture of Eniwetok; second

PACIFIC—Saipan and Tinian islands in the Jap-held Marianas, 1300 miles from Tokyo, have been raided by hundreds of U. S. carrier-based planes... a big step from Truk, 700 miles away, toward the heart of Japan.

Reds, Nazis Locked In Dno Street Battle

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Russian and German troops are fighting a bitter hand-to-hand battle in the streets of Dno for possession of that last important Nazi base east of the Baltic gateway city of Pskov, a Soviet communique said today.

Pskov itself, 64 miles west of Dno, was threatened from two other directions by Soviet forces driving down from Strugi Krashoye, 44 miles to the northeast, and from the frozen marsh and forest country to the northwest, where troops of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army last were reported 25 miles away.

Strugi Krashoye, a town on the Leningrad-Pskov trunk railway, and 30 other localities were captured yesterday by Govorov's left wing, the Moscow bulletin said.

Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Volkhov Army smashed westward along the Staraya Russa-Pskov railway for 10 miles to break the defenses of Dno, liberating more than 150 hamlets.

More than 2500 Germans were killed on the north Russian front, Moscow declared.

The German high command acknowledged Soviet advances in the north.

West and northwest of Krivoi Rog troops of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army wiped out 6000 Germans and captured several Nazi-held communities, the Russian communique reported.

Jury to See Noxon Baby Death Scene

By PAULINIE WARREN
Boston American Staff Writer

PITTSFIELD, Feb. 24—Three more jurors, making a total of 10, were drawn today in short order as the trial of John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy corporation lawyer, for the electrocution murder of his infant son, Lawrence, progressed on its second day.

Seated in the box today were Harold V. Andrews of Pittsfield, an assistant building superintendent; James E. Cullen, Pittsfield, foreman of the local General Electric Co. plant, and William E. Yeats, retired Pittsfield chauffeur.

With selection of the 10th juror, the Commonwealth had seven of its 12 allowable challenges left, and the defense had eight of its 12 remaining.

Yanks Fret Over Talk of Prohibition

Berlin-Bound With New England's Own

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (By Transport Mail)—I've been out on these lease-lend training fields long enough to know that more than ocean and air separate the AEF soldier from his kin and country. They are separated by a mental detachment that is just as wide. The soldier who has been here a year or more has lost his sense of home social measure, of political trends and news analysis.

He doesn't fret about the prospect of inflation, although it affects the cash allotments that he sends home. He isn't worried about pyramiding taxation, although he and his progeny will have to pay the bill. He isn't vexed by black markets, or Washington's massed bureaucracy, or factional labor disputes or party politics.

For all such social problems are part of a world so remote from the cramped confinements of his present life, so secondary to his immediate needs, that they may as well exist on another planet.

What does gail him to excited profanity is the notion that the militant prohibitionists, the die-hard white-ribboners of the U. S. A. are fixing to impose another Volstead Act during his absence. That, in his mind, is a real and very personal menace. He can work himself into quite a froth about that.

GI Personality

In a general, detached way he is sore at the strikers in war labor—not vituperative, or bitter as War Secretary Stimson says—but irritated. His feelings don't run deeper than that. And he wants the right to vote in the presidential election—yet not with a vast, consuming urge, but because he is piqued at the mysterious agents who are blockading that vote. (censored.)

Let the writer attest that he has talked with every man he has mentioned in his articles. I have (censored) met the GI on his own

Home Greatest Yearning of Boys Overseas

Austen Lake, Boston American war correspondent in Britain with New England's Berlin-bound fighting men, writes of the sincere longings of the boys and finds that their greatest longings add up to "HOME."

"Where do they get that stuff about us not wanting to go home until its cleaned up," Lake quotes the men in his next interesting instalment of his engrossing series.

And Capt. Howard F. Casey of 305 Pond st., Jamaica Plain, the '36-'38 Princeton varsity center and brother of Harvard's Warren, whose wife, Claire (Donovan), sends him a new picture each month of Howard Jr. (1½ years old).

the defendant, wore the same outfit today as on the opening day of the trial and sat in the same inconspicuous corner with Noxon's cousin, Atty. Samuel Kennedy of Auburn, N. Y., and Mrs. Kennedy.

The 47-year-old defendant who, it was revealed only today, served under Gen. George Patton in World War I, and was wounded and gassed, also wore his first day's barb, except that he had changed his tie. Today's was a greenish-blue with a small figure.

TO VIEW DEATH SCENE

It was expected that before nightfall, with the panel completed, the jurors would be taken to the home of the Noxons in West st. to view the spot where, the State charges, the tall, though infirmly crippled, defendant, put his mentally defective son to death.

Sheriff Thomas Sullivan had made arrangements for transporting the jury, Judge Abraham Pinanski, the defendant and the attending legal staffs to the Noxon's $45,000 home.

In the spacious "book room" they will gaze at the spot where Noxon's 6-month-old son, Lawrence, died of an electric shock. The father claims that the baby touched a live wire from a rafter.

Brother Row Ends in Saga Of Heroism

Fifteen-year-old William Ryan of Castle st., South End, won an argument the hard way today.

During a dispute with his brother, James, 17, he jumped on the window sill of a third-floor bedroom window to "scare" James.

But he lost his balance and toppled. James caught the falling boy's arm and held him. For 10 minutes both boys screamed for help. Patrolman Henry McCarthy of the Warren ave. station heard them, broke his way into the house and rescued William in the nick of time, uninjured.

P. S.—By then, the brothers had forgotten what they were fighting about.

Dream Man

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 24 (INS)—The question of whether a man can be held legally responsible for his dreams was being considered today by Supreme Court Justice Gerald Nolan.

Mrs. Frieda A. Scheffmeyer, 55, of Yonkers, suing for separation from her 69-year-old husband Joseph, testified that while she was sleeping with her husband last summer, "he was dreaming about another woman."

4 Senator Drafting Job Clause in Vet Aid Bill

By FRANK REILLY

Loneragan Trial Deferred Again

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Wayne Loneragan's trial for the slaying of his heirless wife, Patricia, today was adjourned until Monday when his counsel, Edward V. Broderick, failed to appear in the courtroom for the second successive day.

General sessions Judge Jonah J. Freschi said he had received another telegram from Broderick from Canada declaring that he could not appear until Monday. Asst. Dist. Atty. Jacob Grumet reluctantly agreed to a defense motion for an adjournment.

$2675 TROUBLE—Mabelle R. Bratton of Oak St., Somerville, today was expected to file an answer to charges made by her erstwhile fiancé, George A. Wood of Cape Cod, that she was withholding some $2675 he says he gave to her while they were engaged.

Sen. Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri said today.

The senator, chairman of a Senate finance committee subcommittee holding hearings on the measure, promised an employment clause "with teeth in it" to prevent any returning soldier or sailor from going jobless.

"Thus far, the Veterans Employment Service has been a stepchild," Sen. Clark said. "I agree that we should find some way of guaranteeing the veteran a job when he returns from the war."

Spokesmen for the VFW and AL appeared before the Senate committee to endorse the legislative program for rehabilitation of discharged veterans.

"I think the suggestion that the VFW and the Legion should join forces on this bill was a very happy one," declared Paul C. Wolman, chairman of the VFW national legislative committee.

Former Gov. John Stelle of Illinois, chairman of the Legion's special legislative committee, welcomed the co-operation of the VFW and declared that the ends sought by the "Bill of Rights" are "so important that the Baruch report and the presidential directive already have put into effect its major provisions."

When hearings are completed before the Senate committee, the bill will be redrafted to include various perfecting and clarifying amendments, several of them offered by the VFW. One change would earmark $500,000,000 for hospital construction.

New Bronze Star Not for Airmen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Bronze Star, newest American decoration for action against the enemy, was introduced to the public today.

Obviously aimed at boosting morale of the mud-sloggers who have been wondering where the airmen got all their medals, the new decoration takes precedence over the air medal and the Purple Heart—and cannot be won in the air.

It can be awarded to anyone in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard who distinguishes himself "by heroic or meritorious achievement or service, not involving participation in aerial flight."

Birds Owl-Shy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24 (AP)—For weeks city firemen have tried devious methods to keep starlings from swarming over the business district and roosting in one particular building.

Firemen tried a hose, glue on electric wires where the birds perched, and strung moth balls around the building. The starlings refused to take the hints.

But a stuffed owl solved the problem. The starlings won't land on the building where the owl is erected.

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Feb. 24 (AP)—This village's police force had a military problem on its hands today—how to counterattack an invasion of thieving crows. Residents complain the birds pilfered clothespins from washlines and pecked at housewives who put up resistance.

When police investigated, one crew made off with part of the windshield wiper from the squad car.

CURLEY HEARS FINAL PLEAS IN BIG SUIT

No complaint regarding factual matter in the Saturday Evening Post article, "The Cardinal and Cold Roast Boston," has been received from Cardinal O'Connell, defense counsel stressed today in Congressman James M. Curley's $500,000 suit against the Curtis Publishing Co.

Curley arriving late for final arguments, heard the point emphasized from testimony given earlier by the publishing company.

As Atty. John L. Hall began a two-hour address to the jury, the former governor and mayor took a seat beside his daughter, Mrs. Mary Curley Donnelly. She wore a leopard-spot hat, pearls and red coat which occupied the interest of feminine spectators.

Hall recalled to the jurors it had been testified that the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah Minihan had communicated to the publishing company and had expressed belief the cardinal had not been treated with dignity in some parts of the article.

But the lawyer drove home the point that there had been no complaint regarding facts set forth by the author, Jack Alexander. He pointed out that Alexander had obtained an audience with His Eminence and had done considerable research before writing the piece.

Hall also read from Curley's testimony regarding passages in the article which described him as emulating Huey Long. He quoted Curley as making admissions on that score.

CIO Here Backs F. D. Tax Veto

By Associated Press
Pres. Joseph Salerno of the Massachusetts State CIO issued a statement today declaring the CIO was solidly behind the President in his veto of the tax bill.

"Congress," Salerno commented, "for the past two years has been waging war—not against Hitler, but against the American people. Its antagonism to subsidies, its antics in trying to deprive the soldiers of their vote, and the tax program which adds additional burden on the poor and relieves some of the burden of the rich are all of the same pattern."

"President Roosevelt has done a great service to the American people. He is showing that he is carrying the torch for democracy at home and that his sympathy for the common man and woman transcends purely political considerations. Congress would do well to find out what the man and woman on the street are thinking about before it goes off half-cocked."

Personal Affairs Division for Army

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The War Department announced today the establishment of a personal affairs division of the Army services forces to help military personnel with information and advice on personal and family problems.

"King" Healey was adopted by the native chieftain several months ago and the inhabitants looked upon the 29-year-old Army officer as "their-apparent" to the throne. Healey took it all in stride until the self-made "foster father" died recently and he became next in line for the throne. Now things seem complicated for the unwilling royal son.

He faces the problem of titles—should he address his wife, now living in Temple City, Cal., as "queen"—are his parents considered of "royal blood" and if so, what titles should he use for them?

Mr. and Mrs. Healey said today they doubted their son would be greatly bothered by royal ritual or protocol. The senior Healey, acting superintendent of Lynn street department, said he "knew Daniel long before he was a king" and expected little difficulty as a result of the dubious honor bestowed on him.

"King" Healey is a graduate of Lynn English High School and Tufts Engineering School. Prior to entering the Army he was a General Electric Co. test man. His twin sister, Mrs. Thelma Fuller, is the wife of a navy lieutenant-commander.

Horsefeed Diet Now in Pill Form

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—Feed pills for horses, designed to give Dobbin his chow in concentrated form, have been developed experimentally by the Department of Agriculture.

A daily diet with pill ration weighs 30 per cent less than the standard barnyard bit-of-fare, and occupies one-half to one-third transport space.

It contains more grain than the standard diet and two-feed concentrates—alfalfa leaf meal and oystershell flour—were added.

The new ration is in pellets about the size of pecans. Of course, a horse can't make a meal out of one pellet—he has to eat hundreds of them—but each pill contains all ingredients of the diet.

"We've had no difficulty getting the horses to eat the concentrated rations," said one scientist at the department's Beltsville, Md., station where the studies are under way.

Signal Corps Seeks Women Workers

The Army Signal Corps today issued a call for women workers for confidential jobs in Washington. Lieut. Ray A. Johnson will interview applicants at the United States Employment Service office, 9 Beacon st., Boston, starting today.

Although high school or college education is desirable, the Army will waive the educational requirements if applicants are found qualified in other respects, Lieut. Johnson said. Integrity, loyalty and character will be determining factors, he said.

BUILDING LAW ENFORCEMENT MADE PUZZLE

State and city authorities today sought speedy solution to effect enforcement of the new state public safety law, following Building Commr. James H. Mooney's amazing revelation that neither his inspectors nor the State Department of Public Safety had accepted responsibility to execute its requirements.

Mooney's disclosure was made to the City Council committee on appropriations at the budget hearings. He termed the law, passed as a result of the Coconut Grove disaster, "confusing."

The law governs egress and capacity of all "places of public assembly." Mooney declared that most "major places," such as theaters, had complied with its provisions and had been inspected by the state.

"As far as I can determine, no one is accepting responsibility," commented Councilor Philip Austin Fish. "If another catastrophe occurred, we wouldn't know where to place blame."

Mooney said if his department were "to carry out the law fully," he would require about 2000 inspectors. He has 14 inspectors, he said, and asked for 20 more, but Mayor Tobin cut his budget request to allow for only six more.

If responsibility for enforcing the public safety act is placed on the city, Mooney said he would ask for an additional appropriation.

The committee hearings on the budget continued today with questioning of other city department heads.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 24 (INS)—One hundred and twenty-five guests fled early today when the Knights of Columbus Hostel was destroyed by fire. Several guests suffered burns and slight injuries.

enough when she gave what police charge was an immoral performance at Waldron's Casino last Jan. 13.

Judge Edward F. Hanify prepared to present the case to the jury after refusing the dancer's invitation, proffered from the witness stand, that she adjourn to the theater where she could put on a command performance.

Her offer to dance for the jurors brought a rebuke from Judge Hanify who cautioned her to "just answer the questions."

WORE NET PANTIES

The chastened young woman then testified that two police officers were wrong when they declared that she not only had taken off more than the law allowed, but also for several seconds had been completely exposed in the glare of a spotlight.

"I was wearing a net bras and net panties," she explained.

She then detailed a description of her "strip," telling how she removed dress, outer bras and G-string, but utilized a veil to drape herself so that there was nothing immoral about the performance.

"How about the music, was there anything suggestive about that?" asked Asst. Dist. Atty. George McGunigle in cross-examination.

RELIES ON PERSONALITY

"Oh, I don't rely on the song," she said. "I rely on my personality."

"What particularly about your personality?" queried McGunigle.

"I rely on my smile," she said. "You know, I'm billed as 'the girl with the million-dollar smile.'"

"And that's about all you were wearing that day, wasn't it?"

"Oh, no, I had on a net bras and panties," she insisted.

On completion of her testimony, Officer George Smith was called as a rebuttal witness and testified the defendant was not wearing a net bras when he talked to her in the dressing room immediately after the performance.

Previously, Smith and Officer Arthur Quinn testified blushing of the performance they witnessed last Jan. 13 in which they claimed the young woman stripped off dress, bras and G-string and for one moment withdrew her veil to expose herself completely.

WINS $4000 IN SUIT—Mrs. Verna W. Mace, Baltimore divorcee, shows how she hid in trunk of her husband's auto and, she says, watched him make love to another woman. She brought a $10,000 alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Jean Landsman . . . and was awarded $4000.

BOBBY ROCHE, 10-year-old Brighton boy who is hospitalized with rheumatic fever, is shown with his pal, Peggy, a brown-spotted white beagle given him last November by the Animal Rescue League. Today Peggy is missing . . . but Bobby's mother is keeping the news from him in hopes that the dog soon will be found.

Dog Loss Troubles Sick Boy's Mother

Has anybody seen a brown-spotted white beagle hound who answers to the name of "Peggy?" It's awfully important that she be found. To a 10-year-old Brighton boy, a patient at the Sharon sanatorium, her loss would be a tragedy.

"Peggy" is a friendly little pooch, with floppy brown ears. She'd never win a blue ribbon, but she means everything to Bobby Roche, whose lonely days were brightened by the Sunday visits of his pet.

"Peggy" is gone. Disappeared from the back yard of the Harriet st., Brighton, home last Sunday, just before Bobby's mother, Mrs. Catherine Roche, was about to take her to see the sick lad.

Bobby has been invalidated by rheumatic fever, and in response to his plea for a dog the Animal Rescue League made him a present of "Peggy" last November.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Roche, after frantically searching the neighborhood for the lost dog, told her crestfallen son that "Peggy has a cold so I couldn't bring her today."

Tears welled in Bobby's eyes. "Don't let her die," he pleaded. "Please take good care of her and bring her next Sunday for sure. I must see her."

"So you see," explained Mrs. Roche today, "I can't tell him she's lost. I've just got to find her. I've just got to . . ."

Study Rail Plea To End Service

Whether the war effort will be helped more by continuing passenger service over the Boston-Dorchester-Readville branch of the New Haven Railroad, or by abandoning the line so equipment may be used elsewhere in moving troops and supplies, was a question the state public utilities commission sought to decide today.

In a noisy hearing over the railroad's petition to discontinue passenger service, many Hyde Park and Dorchester residents protested the line furnished them their only means of transportation to war jobs.

Vice-President Frank A. Wall of the New Haven road said the locomotives, cars and workers could aid the war effort better elsewhere, but this assertion was characterized by Pres. William Donahue of the trainmen's union as "flag waving and pocket patriotism."

Stuff of Which Dreams Are Made

By JAMES LINDSLEY

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24 (AP)—Any time you see a few hundred pounds of dry ice and a lot of steam around a movie studio, you know right off they're going to shoot a dream scene.

These commodities, when properly blended, will create great clouds of vapor.

I saw one of these things made today and came away with an increasing sense of bewilderment at the movie industry and a hacking cough from dry ice gases.

It was at R-K-O, where Fibber McGee and Molly are making "Heavenly Days."

McGee is having a dream. He enters the U. S. Senate chamber, then taking 15-foot leaps, assisted by an invisible piano wire, then swimming through the air with his heels 10 feet off the floor.

"Why is he cutting these capers?" I asked someone in charge.

"Well, you see, Fibber McGee is supposed to be the average man," he responded. "He goes to Washington to present the average man's viewpoint."

"That's why he does it. You see, he's the average man, do you see?"

Gen. Spaatz in Italy As Air Blows Grow

ALGIERS, Feb. 24 (INS).—Lieut.-Gen. Spaatz, commander, U. S. strategic air forces over Europe, is in Italy with Lieut.-Gen. Eaker, commander, Mediterranean Allied Air Force.

Announcement that Gen. Spaatz had come down from England, coincident with Tuesday's two-way blow against Germany from both Britain and Italy, was taken to mean that twin-blow aerial warfare against the Reich is to be greatly amplified.

Give Day's Pay Red Cross Plea FOR FUND

Spokesmen for labor and management joined today in the drive to "give an extra day's pay for the man who's away" next Tuesday, Feb. 29, the extra day in Leap Year, by urging donations to the 1944 Red Cross War Fund which opens officially on Wednesday, March 1.

Joseph Salerno, state CIO president, Pres. John J. Del Monte of the Boston Central Labor Union, Harold D. Ulrich of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, J. F. Dorney, works manager at the Walworth Co., and General Chairman Charles F. Rowley of the Red Cross drive, will make appeals for funds on a special radio broadcast Saturday night.

Organized labor will be asked to give a minimum of six hours pay on the 29th, while management will be urged to give in proportion to the increased need for Red Cross service among soldiers and sailors.

Tito's Troops Tangle Trieste Railroad

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Traffic on the main Trieste-Ljubljana railway was paralyzed for two days after Yugoslav Partisans derailed a train near Rakek, a commune from the headquarters of Marshal Tito announced today.

Trieste is an important German-held Italian port on the Adriatic sea 50 miles southwest of Ljubljana, industrial and rail center in western Slovenia.

At the same time units of the First Partisan Brigade defeated a force of Germans at the railway town of Novo Mesto and 30 miles east of the Italian frontier.

London Raiders Use 'Flutterers'

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Mixed with the bomb and spent shell fragments that are showering London these night during German air raids are thousands of strips of metallic paper intended to jam aircraft radio location devices.

Allied bombers have been dumping similar strips on Germany for months but the Germans have adopted them only recently.

Known as "flutterers," the strips are made of black paper banded to extremely thin metal foil and range from a few inches to a few feet in length. They are three-quarters of an inch wide.

Nazis Set to Cut Dutch Dikes

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—German occupation authorities in the Netherlands are prepared to counter any Allied invasion in that quarter by blasting open the country's famous dikes and flooding vast lowlands, Dutch sources disclosed today.

The plan was said to call for turning the waters of the sea and streams loose over entire towns, leaving the Dutch to shift for themselves as best they may.

These same sources said incendiary bombs had been planted in large cities on the Dutch west coast and that an intricate schedule of setting them off has been worked out so that invaders would be forced to advance through a mass of fire.

Nazi E-Boat Blown Up

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—British light naval forces blew up one German E-boat and scattered other groups of enemy forces attempting to attack a small Allied convoy off the east coast of England yesterday, the Admiralty announced today.

Mother's Comforting Hands Soothe Colds' Aches

When colds strike in the home there is always added assurance when the medication is supplied with the sympathetic touch that only mothers' hands possess. And mothers have their own way to treat colds' aches. Thousands upon thousands of mothers know from long experience that one good way to relieve cold's muscular aches—loosen tight coughs and soothe congested nostrils is to use Penetro—an excellent vaporizing ointment in a base containing old-fashioned mother's milk. Penetro works fast to bring relief. It disappears quickly when you rub it on. And above all, it won't blister or burn. It is stainless-white with an agreeable aromatic odor and is always pleasant to use. Once you try Penetro, you'll always want to keep it handy for that next cold. If not delighted—the purchase price will be refunded—25c—double supply 50c. Always demand Penetro.

New Britain Gap Is Closed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 24 (AP)—American soldiers and Marines have wiped out all enemy resistance in western New Britain, blasting out a broad gap in the Japanese South Pacific defense perimeter which a year ago was considered in some quarters to be almost impregnable.

Gen. MacArthur announced today that the Marines from the Cape Gloucester sector on the north coast had joined with the soldiers who moved up from Arawe peninsula in the south.

On the Allied side of the aerial slate packs of American Marauders and British Typhoons swept across the channel today amid strong indications American heavy bombers may be making another deep penetration of Germany.

The Berlin radio reported extensive air battles over northwest and central Germany. Several key continental radio stations had left the air.

POPE AGAIN URGES PACT TO SAVE ROME

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Rome is faced with a "growing menace" but can be saved from damage or destruction if the Allied and Axis powers adopt a policy of good will toward the Eternal City, Pope Pius XII declared last night, according to the Vatican radio.

The Vatican broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, quoted the Pope as telling a gathering of Rome's parish priests:

"It would be an undying stain and shame throughout the centuries if Rome . . . were, for military reasons, considerations or difficulties—which in any case can be overcome with good will in the camps of both belligerents—to become the victim of the destructive fury of this terrible war, in the course of which so many buildings in Italy and abroad have been irreparably damaged or destroyed, the latest of which, but not the least celebrated, is the Mt. Cassino abbey."

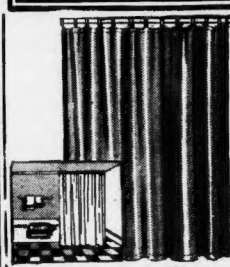

On Tuesday the Vatican radio quoted the Pope as suggesting the belligerents save Rome from destruction by an agreement similar to those which spared Cairo and Athens.

Double Summer Time For Britain April 2

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Britain will go on double summer time beginning April 2 and continue until Aug. 13, Herbert S. Morrison, minister of home security, informed Commons today.

This will put London's clocks six hours ahead of Eastern War Time. The current time difference is five hours.

German Flier Begs In Vain to Be Seized

SEALED IN!

YOU MIGHT AS WELL HAVE THE BEST

Before he managed it he walked two miles across the English countryside, awakened an innkeeper and was refused accommodations; walked five miles more through three villages trying to find someone who would "capture" him, and finally requested the caretaker of an institution to let him surrender.

The proprietor of the inn told the Daily Mail:

"It was about 4 a. m. when I heard a loud knocking at the door. I opened a bedroom window and saw a man standing in the road. He called out in good English, 'I am a German airman. Can you take me in?' At the same time he shone a flashlight on his uniform to show he was a German. I told him I had no bed vacant and shut the window."

Two hours later the airman walked up to an institution and asked the porter to let him in. Police then were called.

Port Head Honored

As a feature of the second anniversary observance of the U. S. Coast Guard's port security program, Mayor Tobin today was scheduled to present the city seal to Capt. Frank M. Meals, USCG, captain of the Port of Boston, at luncheon ceremonies in the Coast Guard base.

In marking the anniversary, officials pointed out that not a single disaster in an American port has marred the shipment of munitions and other war material during the past two years.

Records disclosed that under direction of Capt. Meals, 159 waterfront fires in Boston harbor from May 5, 1942, to date have been battled successfully by a Coast Guard detail.

10 Japs Ridicule U. S., Fear Growing Fury

(Yin Tso is the assumed name of a 21-year-old Chinese who spent three years as a university student in Japan, returned to occupied China and recently escaped to Chungking.)

By YIN TSO

(Written for the Associated Press)

CHUNGKING, Feb. 24—After Pearl Harbor the Japanese built up a new conception of the American. They portrayed him as a rescuer, a bully, a man of weak character, spoiled by easy living. Unlike the Japanese, he was afraid of death.

The Japanese would daringly fly low to bomb his objective, but the American would fly only at a great altitude. His plane would be heavily armored. He would, unlike a Japanese airman, always rely on his bombsight.

The American soldier was the sort of person who would dance even in war time, but his greatest weakness—and this was emphasized and re-emphasized—was his fear of death.

President Roosevelt was portrayed as the arch-villain of the democracies, with Winston Churchill as a misguided lieutenant, led by the nose.

Seventy per cent of all Japanese propaganda today is directed against America and the Americans.

A favorite theme with Japanese artists in the White House or New York's skyscrapers crumbling under attack by Japanese planes.

Writers devote much space to what they call weaknesses in the American system, for example "Party politics in war time." Some compare America with Rome before its decline and fall.

The Japanese fear America's growing might.

I have read articles in the Tokyo newspapers saying if Japan's armament output could equal America's, Japan would unquestionably win the war.

Now the Japanese people are being told that if Japan is defeated the Americans will totally disarm them, destroy all their heavy industry and punish their leaders as war criminals.

I cannot imagine the war ending by their unconditional surrender. I think that if American troops land on Japan proper the Japanese will fight to the very end.

majority leader—a post in which he had served as the President's legislative lieutenant for seven years.

F. D. SENDS NOTE

Mr. Roosevelt himself, moving to head off a revolt that promised, in the eyes of some observers, to elevate Barkley to the foremost of Presidential possibilities this year, expressed a hope that the Kentuckian's resignation would not be accepted. He urged Barkley, in a telegram addressed "Dear Alben," not to resign.

Chairman Doughton (D.) of North Carolina of the House ways and means committee, another erstwhile Roosevelt stalwart, declared the veto message marked the point "where I part company with the President of the United States."

The President had contended the tax bill was inadequate for wartime needs.

Barkley, declaring the President was guilty of misstatements and of making a "deliberate and calculated assault upon the honesty and integrity" of Congress, said:

"Other members may do as they please. I do not propose to take this unjustifiable assault lying down."

He urged Congress to override the veto.

In a telegram dispatched to Barkley's home a few hours later, President Roosevelt said he regretted that "you thought I had in my message attacked the integrity of yourself and other members of the Congress."

"Such you must know was not my intention," he added.

RALLYING CENTER

Barkley's oration immediately focused attention on him as a possible rallying center for various dissident elements of the party, although some leaders took the opposing view that it would tend to solidify the party by "clearing the atmosphere."

For himself, Barkley told reporters that he was "utterly indifferent as to what the political consequences may be to me."

Whatever the long-range implications, it was freely predicted on all sides that Barkley would be retained as Senate leader, and with vastly enhanced prestige. Senator after senator said he felt sure today's vote of confidence would be unanimous.

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victims after victims with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of those unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from nagging arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excessive acids within the body.

As a dietary aid in the faster neutralization of these excessive acids, which in turn may tend to bring speedier pain relief to this extent, Vig-Ore Redoxon Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vig-Ore Redoxon Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vig-Ore Redoxon Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind. CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.00 at any Nature Food Centre Store to get your Vig-Ore Redoxon Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring something relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other dietary aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS FREE! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vig-Ore Redoxon Tablets cost only a few cents a day to use. 500 Tablet Bottle—$1.00 (500 Tablets Economy Size $3.25). Mail orders sent postpaid. gia, of the Senate finance committee, who inveighed against the veto when it was submitted Tuesday, forecast flatly that Barkley would be asked unanimously to stay at the helm. And George was just as confident that if the House overrides the tax bill veto, the Senate will do likewise by a large majority.

In the historic address, which he said he made only after long deliberation the night before, Barkley shouted that "this is the first time . . . I have been accused deliberately of voting for a bill that constituted a relief measure impoverishing the needy and enriching the greedy."

His break with Mr. Roosevelt was more noteworthy because of the close relations that existed between them for years. Barkley followed White House policies unswervingly and, as he observed yesterday, carried the Administration flag "over rougher territory than was ever traversed by any previous majority leader."

The President's famed "Dear Alben" letter helped elevate Barkley to the leadership in 1937. Again, the Roosevelt magic aided him in his toughest primary fight when A. B. "Happy" Chandler was his opponent.

Barkley was keynoter at the 1932 and 1936 conventions which nominated President Roosevelt, and permanent chairman of the third term convention in 1940.

The majority leadership is a party office, and the man who holds the post is responsible primarily to his colleagues. However, he is generally regarded as spokesman for the White House in policy matters affecting legislation.

Party Chiefs Here See Setback to F. D.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley's break with President Roosevelt was hailed today by anti-administration Democrats in Massachusetts as a devastating blow at the President's chances for another term and predicted it would serve to cement a growing, powerful anti-fourth term bloc at the Democratic national convention in July.

Charles H. McGlue, former Democratic state committee chairman who is leading the forces supporting the presidential candidacy of former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, said the Senator's action might result in a "favorite son" candidacy for Barkley in his home state of Kentucky.

Such a move, he said, would be similar to the Ely campaign here and would be directed toward the formation of a coalition of anti-fourth term Democrats supporting a candidate who can challenge the President. He recalled that Barkley has delivered the keynote speech at the last two Democratic conventions.

"These movements by Ely in Massachusetts and Barkley in Kentucky will be followed by similar movements in many other states," he added.

Joseph Lee, former Boston school committee member, associated with McGlue is backing Ely's candidacy, said Barkley had helped "to break the spell in people's minds that the President has control of everything and nothing can be done about it."

Gov. Ely, serving as counsel in the Noxon murder trial in Pittsfield, declined comment.

In Washington, Democratic State Committee chairman William H. Burke declined comment on the Barkley break, but reiterated his charge that the Ely forces here "were bluffing" about getting a slate of delegates. He pointed out that next Tuesday is the deadline for certification of signatures on nomination papers.

An American Speaks

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., FEB. 24, 1944

THE COURAGEOUS and inspiring AMERICAN QUALITY of Majority Leader Barkley's speech in the United States Senate in protest against President Roosevelt's veto of the tax bill is universally recognized and acclaimed.

It raises the hope that the wholly indefensible veto will be overridden.

If this is done, the Congress will fulfill its obligation to the American people and justify the faith which the founders of the American republic had in democratic institutions.

It will frustrate the evil forces which have conspired to destroy democratic government in the United States, and which have launched their sinister conspiracy through the President of the United States.

In one of the most powerful rebukes of a President ever heard in Congress, Senator Barkley castigated the section of the veto message which accused the tax bill of "impoverishing the needy and enriching the greedy."

"This is a calculated and deliberate assault on the legislative integrity of every member of the Congress of the United States," said Senator Barkley.

"Other members may do as they please, but for me I do not propose to take this unjustified assault lying down."

NOT AS A PARTISAN, but as AN AMERICAN compelled to defend his country against the dictatorial ambitions of a leader he had long followed and trusted and loved, he said to his hushed colleagues:

"There is something more precious to me than any honor that can be given by the Senate, by the people of Kentucky or by the President of the United States.

"It is the approval of my own conscience and my own self respect.

"In that self respect and in the rectitude of my conscience, I have called a conference of the Democratic majority to meet at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, at which time my resignation will be submitted as Democratic leader of the Senate."

This was said with full awareness that it might be an act of self-renunciation of personal ambitions.

No thoughtful American can believe that WILL be the result.

He has in truth risen to the greatest height of his own long and honorable career.

He has nobly served his country.

What we have seen in this stirring instance is an inspiring moment in American history, and the inspiring act of an AMERICAN statesman in the meeting of responsibility and the performance of duty in the patriotic and sacred pattern of his forebears.

Only the votes of the House and Senate on the impending motion to override the Roosevelt veto—the votes which will decide the final issue between democracy and dictatorship—will determine if Congress as a whole is capable of rising to the level of statesmanship and patriotism attained by Senator Barkley.

Lenten Prayers for Peace

MILLIONS of persons in America and all over the world have begun the forty-day period of prayer, fasting and penitence known as Lent.

This year the ancient observance will be more solemn and meaningful than any of its remembered predecessors.

For the cruel war which has engulfed most of the nations of the earth and caused whole continents to be wet with blood and tears has greatly increased the need of religious faith.

In recent months we have made many suggestions, all calculated to help win the war as quickly and completely as possible. We have said "Buy War Bonds to the limit of your financial ability," "Take a war job and keep it," and similar pleas. Now we add another suggestion. We say: "Go to church every day during Lent. Put your trust in God and ask Him to hasten the day of a just and enduring peace."

Dear Erin, how sweetly thy green bosom ruses!
An emerald set in the ring of the sea,
Each blade of thy meadows my faithful heart prizes,
Thou Queen of the West, the world's cushla-ma-chree.
—JOHN PHILIP CURRAN.

CUSHLA-MA-CHREE means "darling of my heart" if I'm not mistaken. And I could be . . . An enthusiastic pipe smoker, now in the U. S. Navy, tells me he has 60 pipes. His wife, who is young and good looking, is also a pipe smoker. When this man is at home, he and his wife spend their evenings playing cribbage and enjoying their pipes . . . Another highly successful and wealthy man who married his secretary is Ervin Uehlein of Milwaukee. President of one of the world's largest breweries, Mr. Uehlein, who is quite a handsome fellow, was one of Milwaukee's most eligible bachelors. The bride, whose maiden name was Marie Zarwell, had been his secretary for four years. Our Mules & Men Department is hard at work but has not yet completed its research to determine why so many successful and outstanding men marry their secretaries. In the meanwhile, don't fail to have your daughter learn stenography.

ASIDES: A business publication says that "going begging" is a U. S. postoffice job paying $3200 a year. This job consists of reading magazines and literature to determine if publications contain any obscene matter . . . When we uncovered a grandmother of 29 years of age in Santa Monica, Cal., we thought we had found the country's youngest grandma. But not so. Mrs. Delma Adams of Quinton, Okla., became a grandmother at the age of 27 years 2 months and 20 days.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What has hay to do with hay fever? A—Couldn't say. I have heard a sufferer from hay fever could pitch hay all summer and never have an attack . . . Q—What is it they say about writing in green ink? A—Has been stated that is the best color ink to write a love letter with. Also, has been claimed by character analysts that persons preferring green ink are usually of a very affectionate nature.

SAYS HE: "Note you say a celebrated entertainment star who was rejected and put in 4-F because of a punctured ear drum felt badly because he couldn't get in the service and do his bit," writes a Californian. "He still can get into uniform if he tries. The son of my neighbor was rejected because of a ruptured ear drum, but he kept trying to enlist and was finally accepted for limited service. I also know of a young man with one eye who managed to enlist for non-combatant service. Possibly the star you mention and some of the 4-F professional athletes do not know they still have a chance to wear what all the best dressed young men of today are wearing, Uncle Sam's uniform."

SOLDIER'S DOG: A soldier's mother informs me her boy's dog was slowly pining away and on the verge of dying of a broken heart when his master sent home a voice recording from the fighting fronts. The recording in the master's voice said: "Hello, pal! Go eat your dinner! Attaboy!" And some more talk in a similar vein. The dog responded to the recording immediately. It is now used before all his meal times. He is eating regularly and recovering his health.

PLEASE NOTE: It takes a clever fellow to figure out a good slogan. But the sloganers rarely get credit for their work as do the authors of plays, novels, songs, etc. For instance, what is the name of the advertising genius who originated: "I'd walk a mile for a camel?" And who brought up the immortal words: "If better cars are built, Buick will build them?"

BRIEFLY: After being in the red for 24 consecutive years, the U. S. postoffice department made a profit of $1,333,000 in 1943. . . . Now I have a reader, a Navy wife, whose name is Terese Shakespeare. She doesn't say whether she is any relation to William Shakespeare, the former Notre Dame football star, but she probably is. . . . As to what the Indians call this contrivance in which they carry their babies, Bertha Parker Cody, expert on Indian customs, says: "Cradleboards and baby carriers are still used among many American Indian tribes, but each tribe has its individual name for this aboriginal contrivance."

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Wednesday—I had a number of visitors yesterday after noon but on the whole, the day was a peaceful one and I finished the mail fairly early. I sometimes wonder how the people who are so impressed by my energy can fail to realize that any woman with a family who does all of her own work, is doing in the course of a day twice as much as I ever think of doing.

Just getting the meals and cleaning the house and doing the laundry, not to speak of taking care of several children, who in winter are bound to have the ailments that come the way of all children, will fill up more time and demand a more active life than I live at any time.

THERE IS ONLY ONE THING which I find is a real strain, and that is purely an emotional strain which anyone who reads about as many personal problems and tragedies as I do in the course of every 24 hours would naturally feel. Many of these problems are particularly baffling because there is nothing one can do about them, since the decisions involved are always in the hands of other people.

IN THE PAPERS TODAY there is a notice that Feb. 25 will be a world day of prayer. The United Council of Church Women wrote to remind me of this day some time ago. According to them, the day will be observed in 10,000 places in the United States and in over 50 countries around the world.

It is obvious to many of us that ideas of justice and right must differ, but if we pray that we may be given the understanding to know the right, and humbly struggle to achieve it, that is the most that we can do.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24—How's this for a surprise—Alice Faye as Sissy in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn"? Yes, I mean just that.

Alice, one of the top queens of 20th Century-Fox, has her heart set on playing the role of the erring, but colorful, Sissy, even though the part of Frankie (rumored for Jennifer Jones) is the book's heroine. For a long time Alice has been hankering for something more dramatic than the gay musicals she makes.

Alice Faye

Of course, Mrs. Phil Harris is expecting her second child—the first week in April, to be exact. "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" goes before the cameras the first week in May. If all goes according to schedule, as both Alice and Producer Louis Lighton hope, you'll be seeing her as the naughty, but fascinating, Aunt Sissy.

NOW IT'S a circus that is fascinating Mike Todd—so much so that he has made Robert Ringling an offer to buy Ringling Bros.' circus. He was offered a job to stage Ringling's circus by putting some added glamour in the old-fashioned show that we all went to see, not only as children, but as grown-ups, too. If Ringling doesn't sell his show it's dollars to doughnuts that the man who has made a fortune on Broadway as a producer (and on occasions lost a fortune) will get his own traveling circus. Mike's idea is completely to revolutionize the old-time parade with the addition of gorgeous women and different acts.

JANE BALL is out of "Keys of the Kingdom" in one of the toughest breaks I've ever heard. The little stage actress, who was to have had the big part of Nora, is so ill with makeup poisoning and her face so broken out that it will be impossible for her to face the cameras. Meanwhile, Mary Anderson made an extensive test today for the role.

LET'S MAKE it final this time—there's no trouble between Joan Crawford and Warner Brothers over "Never Goodbye." Rumors that she had turned down the script were spiked by Joan herself today when she said: "I couldn't have turned it down because it isn't completed. I like the story and Eddie Goulding and I have had several conferences." Meantime, while the story is being completed, Joan has turned writer and is authoring three magazine stories. Her close pals, Mrs. Ray Milland, Mrs. Gary Cooper and Mrs. Fred MacMurray, "Not bad," she laughed, "for a girl who never went past the sixth grade!"

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Mrs. Lynn Howard (Judith Barrett) is expecting the stork in August. Lynn is the son of wealthy Charles Howard. He has recently been in litigation with Anita Howard, his first wife, over their children; Florence Lake was Penny Singleton's voice on this week's "Blondie" broadcast. Penny was marooned in the valley by the storm, so on five minutes' notice Florence left the "Casanova Q. Brown" set to substitute for her. "Skeffington" is finished and Bette Davis has hied herself to the desert to rest; Irene Dunne is entertaining the WAVES Sunday. She is the first actress to throw open her home for servicemen; Margaret Hayes, back in town, is doing the night spots with press agent Norman Millen; Gypsy Rose Lee has rented one of Anita Loos' houses at the beach; Rise Stevens is back in Hollywood to await the visit of the stork.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—Munhattan Glitter: Redheaded Connie Moore, another touch of Venus, hustling into CBS with attractive Joe Cotten... Guy Kibbee hailing a cab—in vain—even as you and I... Yvette's wandering around Radio City in an eerie make-up just before her kiss and television debut in young love scene... Martha Raye, the solid sender, looking as slender (because of her recent illness, not dieting) on the Leon & Eddie's ringside... Carol Bruce, whom Tin Pan Alleyites believe may be Mrs. Gene Krupa already!

HERE ARE SOME excerpts from a letter received two days ago from Jackie Heller, the singer—not a big star, but one of the "fair names" in show business who are doing a big job without any publicity. He has been away for almost a year on a USO junket. He writes:

"We are now at the hottest spot in the South Pacific, and I don't mean from the heat. My foxhole is three feet away from my tent. "When we started out in Hawaii nine months ago little did I realize where I would be, and frankly I'm surprised that they let us do shows so close to the front.

"LIVING QUARTERS are rough, and so is the food in general, especially when you are in a combat area. Good ole sea rations and Spam. Up at 6:30 a. m. for show, go crazy all day until you do your shows in the evenings and then home in that lousy tent with either a carbide lamp or candlelight. You read a while, try and write letters if the mosquitos and insects don't drive you crazy. "Our shows are all outdoors and we work in the damnest rainstorms and are soaked from head to foot almost every night. How my voice has stood up I'll never know, but it has and I'm grateful.

"The P. A. systems are the worst in the world, and many's the time the rain kills them altogether. The men sit out in the rainstorms wearing their ponchos or raincoats and never move until the show is over. If you could only see how badly these men need live entertainment from home, they are the greatest audiences."

She was discovered by Salka Viertel, who is Gee Gee's best friend and adviser. Salka arranged an audition for her with Director George Cukor who was preparing a picture at Metro. Director Cukor was not impressed. He said to her: "You have a bad voice. It squeaks. It will not flow." It was Salka, then, who got her the job at Warners. She tested with every potential leading man who came to this studio. But she couldn't get an important role in an important picture. Then they let her go at this studio, and she was immediately signed by Metro, the studio that originally wouldn't have her.

SUSAN WAS born in Spokane, Wash., on July 3, 1921. She is 5 feet 4½ inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has brown hair, gray eyes and wears no make-up off the screen, excepting a little lipstick.

She went to the Laird Hall School for Girls, then the La Rew School in Azusa, and was graduated from Hollywood High School. During vacations she wrapped packages and clerked in local stores. She also ran an elevator and modeled.

She hates to dress up. She favors sports clothes, low-heeled shoes and bobbie socks. Her favorite perfume is "Shocking."

She is married to Richard Quine, former actor, now a coast-guardman stationed in San Francisco. He was her leading man in the movie "Tish." They had several love scenes together.

WHEN SHE'S not working in a picture, she resides in a small apartment in San Francisco to be with her husband. She does all the cooking and the washing.

She is a movie fan. She likes going to the movies and eating hard candy and jujubes while the picture is on. Her favorite actresses are Greer Garson and Barbara Stanwyck. Her favorite actors are Ronald Colman and Cary Grant. She is anxious to make more pictures with her husband as her leading man.

Her pet is a Great Dane called Thunder. It is a huge dog, almost too large for her room. Yet, she takes Thunder with her almost everywhere she goes.

Philosophy of Action

By George E. Sokolsky

AMERICANS OFTEN COMPLAIN that with all the planning that has been discussed during the past decade, our economy has been without plan, purpose, or philosophy of action. The real difficulty has been that an attempt was made to establish socialist controls over a capitalist operation.

The confusions and contradictions arising from this paradox are responsible for most of our difficulties, and the inevitable concentration of authority in wartime has increased their complexity. The value of the Baruch report lies in the single fact that it reflects any compromise with socialism. Baruch emphasizes the importance of getting money and plants back into the hands of its owners as speedily as possible. He says:

"If plants are choked with government property, equipment, inventories, and work in process, manufacturers will not have room for the new equipment and new materials to produce peace time goods. Or, if their working capital remains frozen in unpaid-for government work, they will lack the money to start up their businesses afresh; to buy new materials and new equipment, to pay their workers."

"Business would be at a standstill; workers and returning servicemen would walk the streets, while the government was figuring how to pay what it owed."

But he goes even further: "We recommend quick, fair and final settlement of terminated war contracts through negotiations by the contractors and the procurement agencies."

HE REJECTS the slowing-up process of audit by the comptroller-general which he says "would quibble the nation into a panic." He adds:

"If such an audit before payment were decreed, no war contractor would know where he stood, prime contractors would be unable to pay sub-contractors, banks would be reluctant to make adequate loans, billions in working capital would be frozen. The delays in settlement could force many concerns into bankruptcy. It would mean unemployment by audit."

"The essential point to remember about these contract settlements is that they be fair—fair both to the government and to the contractor. What is fair can be determined just as well in a matter of weeks as in years."

A "COMPLETE FINANCIAL KIT" is the heart of the Baruch philosophy of action and its object is to take the government out of business as soon as possible. Let me quote it:

"1—Immediate payment—the full 100 per cent—for all completed articles.

"2—On the uncompleted portion of the contract, immediate payment—the full 100 per cent—of the government's estimate of 'factual' items, where proof ordinarily is simple, such as direct labor or materials, and of other items on which the contractor is able to satisfy itself, up to 90 per cent of the contractor's total estimated costs.

"3—Immediate payment—the full 100 per cent—of settlements with subcontractors as soon as approved.

"4—Payment by the government of interest on termination claims, until settled.

"5—As insurance against delays in validating claims, a new, simplified system of T. (termination) loans by local banks, with government guarantees, to be available to all war contractors, primes and subs.

"6—For those unable to obtain such loans from their local banks in 30 days, the government to make the loans directly.

"7—Until the new T. loans are authorized by Congress, extension of V and VT loans to all eligible borrowers.

"8—Finally, for hardship cases, unable to use any of the tools outlined above, expedited settlements."

Note the emphasis upon full immediate payments, upon the use of local banks, upon speed in getting private money into work again. This is American enterprise—the kind that built this country in the past. It is what we have been asking for the past 10 years. Copyright, 1944, King Features Synd., Inc.

IF YOUR SKIN HAS BEGUN to show the various tell-tale signs of encroaching years... with the appearance of wrinkles... a saggy and baggy skin... and a change of texture, too... you'll be vitally interested in a cream compounded on a new principle in cosmetics... a cream that boasts of an amazing ingredient that helps to make skins look youthful. Warner Bros. star, Joan Winfield, poses.

Come Clean on Past

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: When I fell in love with my wife, I lacked the courage to tell her I was a widower with two children. She had said she didn't like widowers, either grass or sod. Now it happens I'm making an allowance to these children of my first wife, who are living with their grandmother, and I haven't had the courage to tell my wife—we've only been married a few weeks—about this arrangement. I'd sooner face a firing squad than confess I've been lying about my past history.—J. L. C.

There's absolutely nothing to do but to come clean about your past. Tell her after she expressed an opinion about grass and sod widowers you lacked the courage to confess you were one of the outcasts.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I'm 19 years old and employed, as my mother needs my help. I have a boy friend in the service who loves me very much and I love him. We plan to marry in the future. My boy friend is in camp about forty miles away and wants me to move nearer to him so we can see each other often, but I don't want to move away from home. Do you think it advisable to do as he says?—R. N.

Your decision not to move away from home seems sensible to me.

Girls, Give Legs a Chance!

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ONE of the important matters for our national pride in our womanhood in this country has always been the beauty and shapeliness of their legs. No mean role was played by sheer silk stockings in building up this pride.

Now that silk and nylon hose, ace leg beautifiers, are gone, I notice a tendency to slump in the matter of presenting feminine legs to the public most attractively. I see rayon and cotton stockings that are soiled and unattractively worn a lot more than there is any excuse for wearing them. I also notice that a lot of them seem to wrinkle and spiral around the legs, thus making these otherwise attractive gams mighty unpleasant to see.

I know it's tough to find stockings that will stay put like silk and nylon, but it is certainly worth an effort.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

WHEN A WOMAN acquires a new attractiveness... she wins a new power to charm. She radiates a regained spirit of youthfulness. She no longer fears looking and feeling old. She is happy in the knowledge that she can face... with confidence... the critical scrutiny and appraisal of both her male and feminine friends.

In short... her innermost heart rejoices and life seems full of sunshine. We all must grow old... that is the inevitable... but we can grow old gracefully... with a complexion that bespeaks the youth which our years deny.

I have in mind a cream which has one prime purpose... and that is to help smooth and beautify the aging skin... and aging effects can be premature as well as the result of years.

This cream represents a new principle in cosmetics. It is different from conventional creams because it... and it alone, its creators claim... contains activator as its activating ingredient. It is this vital substance which makes possible the makers' claim that this cream will help skins look youthful again.

Because activator, they say, helps to replace... by absorption through the skin... a substance which the body secretes freely during youth... and which is so important to the youthful appearance of the skin. The purpose of this cream is to build up this deficiency... which usually occurs around thirty-five... back to normal... and to have the skin approach the texture and smoothness it had in youth.

ENRICHED WITH PURE OILS

The compound is enriched with pure oils... and has only local effect... for the face, neck and hands. This cream is for use at night. Before you go to bed... 20 minutes before, or more, if convenient... cleanse your skin thoroughly in your usual manner.

Then very gently massage this cream into your skin... using upward and outward strokes on your face and neck. On the back of your hands stroke the cream upward from your fingers to the wrists or higher. Then pat the underchin and throat with the backs of your hands.

Leave on your skin over night all that is not absorbed... because six hours... the average period of actual sleep... are required for the maximum absorption... less is insufficient. In this time the active ingredients of the cream will have a chance to exert their physiologic influence on the structure of your skin. Do this every night.

Use about one-half of a level teaspoonful each night... the entire contents of the jar will then last a period of 30 nights. This is the necessary amount for getting the best results in the least time. Persistent massaging of the skin with this cream every night... will in the large majority of cases... result in restoring to the skin its youthful texture. If your is a stubborn case... a longer period of time will be necessary.

For the name of this youth-giving skin cream, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By MARTHA LEE
HERE'S GOOD NEWS for homemakers—the large-cabbage crop in history is now rolling into market. In fact, it's just half again as large as any previous harvest. So, for a full week, from Feb. 24 to March 4, cabbage is proclaimed the nation's victory food selection.

Yest, this is good news, not only from the standpoint of economy but nutrition as well. We will expect the price to be low with this abundance—but the real bargain comes in the food value which a head of cabbage contains. Vitamins—yes, indeed! Vitamin C. But that's only the beginning—add vitamin B-1 and G. And if the cabbage is very green, it gives you one more—Vitamin A.

Cabbage is also a good carrier of minerals such as calcium, iron and phosphorus, which many of us do not get a good supply of. So see how many ways you can get it into your daily menus.

Do not overlook it, first of all, as part of your salad bowls. Let it mingle with the other greens—the chicory, lettuce, escarole, etc. And serve a delicious cole' slaw often, for, as you know, it is in the raw vegetables that many of the food values we are seeking are most plentiful.

CABBAGE, APPLE, RAISIN SLAW

3 cups shredded raw green cabbage
1 cup diced, pared, cored apples
1/2 cup seedless raisins
3/4 cup French dressing
Arrange the chilled cabbage, apples, raisins and French dressing in alternate layers in a salad bowl. Chill thoroughly. Toss and serve. Makes 6 servings.

BEET AND CABBAGE RELISH

1 pt. finely chopped cooked beets
1 qt. finely chopped raw cabbage
1/2 cup grated horseradish
2 cups sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 cup cider vinegar
1 cup water
Mix beets, cabbage, horseradish, sugar, salt and pepper together. Bring vinegar and water to boiling and pour over vegetables. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal immediately. Makes about 4 pints. More sugar may be added if desired.

BAKED CABBAGE WITH APPLES

4 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups sliced tart apples
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tbsp. vinegar
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Arrange alternate layers of cabbage and apple in greased baking dish. Sprinkle salt and pepper over cabbage, and brown sugar over apples. Add vinegar and dot top with butter. Cover and bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

CABBAGE-TOMATO CASSEROLES

1 small onion, minced
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup tomato sauce
3 cups cooked cabbage
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup dry bread crumbs
2 tbsp. chopped green pepper
Sauté onion in 2 tablespoons butter 5 minutes; add to tomato sauce. Arrange alternate layers of cabbage and sauce in greased casserole, sprinkling each layer of cabbage with cheese, crumbs and green pepper. Top with crumbs, dot with remaining butter and bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 25 minutes, or until thoroughly heated and slightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

OLD-FASHIONED FRIED CABBAGE

1/4 cup bacon or ham fat
6 cups shredded cabbage
Heat bacon or ham fat in heavy frying pan. Add cabbage and cook over medium heat until well browned, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Season to taste with pepper. Makes 6 servings.

month-delayed Boston newspapers for news. It comes too late, and too stale. But they do want home gossip, electing in the order of importance (1) sports, (2) comic strips, (3) Boston city news, (4) what movies are playing where, and (5) editorials. They read old issues down to the very pulp, handing them from one tuffer till they are frayed rags. But they don't read with an evaluating eye—just for the savor of home association.

"Gallop Poll"

And this little "Gallop poll" came from: First Lieut. John T. McColgan of 50 Round Hill, Jamaica Plain, a fur salesman, and battalion executive out of the High School of Commerce. And Staff Sergt. Ken E. Finlayson of 4 Church st., South Boston, who used to fly a Piper Cub from Ames Field, and drive a truck for Burgess Express (Plainville.) And Corp. Louis Truscillo of 339 Norfolk st., Cambridge, who is wearing the heavy wool O. D. sweater his mother, Mrs. Mary, sent and wants to get the American's Cambridge Edition, so he can read more about his own people.

And First Sergt. James H. Robinson of 59 Vinal ave., Somerville, a former baker for Weston's of Waltham under Jack Egan, and "has had success" with the greyhounds at London's White City, where they only run six poodles to the race, and payoff on "win" and "place."

And Sergt. Charles Colarusso of 5 Pearl ave., Winthrop, an ex-A. S. Campbell's steel polisher, who bids wife Bonnie (Cheek) and daughter Annie-Sue, "Be patient a little while yet."

And Pvt. Henry L. Cappella of 164 South st., Plymouth (most of the Plymouth soldiers are in the Pacific theater), who hears from Elizabeth Whitlow twice a week, and thinks the spirit of the U. S. people must be O. K., or "we wouldn't be getting all this fighting gear."

One thing the soldiers detest, and that is having their home-going letters censored, and read by their own company commanders—"like peeping Toms into our innermost thoughts." They do acknowledge the need for censorship, but it cramps their freedom of expression to have their own officers read their intimate utterances, and wish there could be an "exchange system" by which non-acquaintances would monitor the mail.

The cantonment where these artillerymen live resembles a small city of lumberman's shacks, surrounded by brown custard-pudding mud. There's no place nearby to go, and not much beyond the rustic relaxations of the recreation hut, to do.

Yet as Corp. Theodore J. Lezon of 19 Putnam rd., Ipswich, said with resignation, "I used to be awfully homesick, but I've gotten over that now."

Not that he hasn't the big, common, aching urge to have this over and get back to his corner of the world. But just that a man can't go on being homesick all the time. Nature coats his feelings with merciful resignation, which is about where most of these long-termers are now.

Ted Williams Fan

Men like Corp. Ernest A. Spar of 17 Benedict st., Somerville, who some day is going back to work for Bill Duncan's brass foundry, and is a Ted Williams fan. (Fact is, Ted is unanimously the favorite sport character of all these Bostonians.)

And Sergt. Oren "Tom" Whiting of 133 West Water st., Rockland, whose hobby was hunting pheasants at home, and who has a hysteric here because pheasants run around like pussy cats, and the law is rigid about shooting them without permit of the local landlords.

And Corp. Joe A. Belviso of 48 Trull st., Somerville, an ex-National Distilleries packer, whose dad, Anthony, is a chef at Pieroni's Washington st. sea grill, and whose uncle, John L. Alibrandi, is a Filene's barber. (He was born in Messina, and proudly showed me a clipping from the Boston Record giving a pictorial display of his family.)

And Sergt. John M. Murray of 46 Farm Crest, Lexington, who knows the Dennis Healeys, and was service manager for Lou Bucher at Colonial Motors. And Pvt. William F. Bongiorno, which in Italian means "Good Day," and who tried to buy himself a pair of skates in London to practice some indoor curliques, but couldn't find any. (He'd like wife Elina (Willis) to ship him his own pair, but guesses he might never get them.)

PROTECT SCARCE RATIONED INGREDIENTS WITH ROYAL CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

They'll love you when you serve

CANDIED NUT CAKE

But, of course! Make it with reliable, cream of tartar ROYAL. Its sure, "steady action" helps to give fluffy, tender biscuits, and cakes that are light, fine-textured, fresh-keeping. Help protect your scarce rationed ingredients! When baking at home, be sure you always use ROYAL cream of tartar BAKING POWDER. Insist on it!

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoon Royal Cream of Tartar Baking Powder
1 1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream margarine thoroughly; add sugar gradually, beating in well. Add beaten egg and vanilla; beat until well blended. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix well. Pour into well-greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven at 350° F. about 50 minutes. Cover top with Candied Nut Topping. Return to oven; bake about 5 minutes, until topping bubbles. Cut in squares to serve.

CANDIED NUT TOPPING: Cream 3 tablespoons margarine. Combine with 6 tablespoons brown sugar; add 1/4 cup chopped nuts; mix well. Makes 1 eight-inch cake.

ONLY ABOUT 1/2 AS MUCH A CAN OF ROYAL CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER PROTECTION

ROYAL IS RELIABLE

Noxon

dio being repaired; the prosecution contends the incurably ill child was intentionally done to death.

But whether the ordeal of his first home-coming in five months, and under such sober circumstances, weighed on the socialite attorney could not be learned from his stoical countenance as he sat in the prisoner's cage of Berkshire Superior Court.

His appearance was that of the alert lawyer, interested in every detail of the procedure in calling and examining talesmen as jurors. Local friends describe his business-like manner as identical with that which he has often displayed in this courtroom while handling cases for important clients.

COPIOUS NOTES

He took rapid and copious notes, and studied the faces of each prospective juror intently.

Whenever a juror went unchallenged by the state, the defendant conferred briefly in the cage with either former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, his chief counsel, or his assistant, Atty. Walter Donovan, and then in his own firm voice announced acceptance of the juror in question. The only show of emotion on his part was during the short recesses, when he turned to his loyal wife, sitting within the bar enclosure and close to the cage. Occasionally a smile would brighten his face in response to one from her; or there would be an exchange of a few words, now and then a touching of hands.

Noxon's interest in the proceedings was unflinching even during the long and inevitably monotonous procedure of selecting the jury. Some dozen men were excused for sickness or other causes, and a score or so disqualified. The prosecution challenged four men and the defense three up to the time of court adjournment.

FIRST JUROR CALLED

The first juror called and the first chosen was Frederick A. Corkhill of Pittsfield, an electrician.

The next member of the panel, Frank J. Kelly of Lee, a clerk, was disqualified after declaring he had formed an opinion because of the medical examiner's report and the fact he is in the undertaking business.

The next six jurors chosen were Wheeler Watson, Lee merchant; Merton E. Richmond, Adams accountant; James J. McLean of North Adams, an office manager; William Widen of Williamstown, a manufacturer; Edgar W. Noyes, Williamstown custodian, and Edward Cone of Pittsfield, retired.

"Your duty will be a solemn, a responsible and a patriotic duty," Judge Pinanski said, "for in the sacred keeping of the jury are the rights of the defendant and the rights of the Commonwealth."

Gneisenau Abandoned By Nazis in Poland

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Air reconnaissance showed that the German battleship Gneisenau is lying with bows and gun turrets dismantled in the Polish port of Gdynia, the British air ministry said.

DISCUSS NOXON CASE—Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti (center) and his assistants, Valmore O. Cole and Alfred W. Bettigole (right), prosecuting attorneys in the Noxon trial, discuss the case.

In the Armed Forces

Doctors Warn Folks Who Are Constipated!

Ever feel like this?

→ MENTALLY DULL
→ HEADACHE
→ NO PEP
→ UPSET STOMACH with gas, bloating.

Constipation is often accompanied by many discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. And here's good advice!

For years a noted Ohio Physician, Dr. P. M. Edwards, successfully relieved scores of patients from constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists from coast to coast.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable are wonderful—not only to gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO pep up liver bile flow. No griping or weakening effects. Test TONIGHT to feel "up-top" tomorrow. Follow label directions.

DR. EDWARDS' Olive Tablets

Kitty Binnian Weds in Florida

By BETTY ALDEN

OBTAINING FRESH orange blossoms for her bridal veil and bouquet presented no problem to post deb Kitty Binnian of Cohasset who went south to the land of orange blossoms last week to be married to Anthony Rogers Whittemore of Farmington, Ct.

The wedding, originally planned for Cohasset, was changed at the last minute because of the bridegroom's military orders. Both families, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binnian and Mrs. Robert D. Whittemore, went South with Kitty to share in the wedding festivities. The ceremony took place at Jacksonville, Fla., last Saturday.

The petite blonde bride graduated from St. Mary's-in-the-Mountains, made her debut two winters ago and belongs to the Junior League and Vincent Club. Her bridegroom was in the Harvard class of '43 before entering the Naval Air Force. His clubs include Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770 and D. U.

SOMEWHERE in the Pacific Lieut. Dudley Talbot of Weston is passing out cigars to celebrate the birth of his first child, Martha Fuller Talbot, Feb. 12, at Richardson House. The infant's mother is the former Hope Halsey, daughter of Mrs. Fuller Halsey of Beacon st., and niece of former Gov. and Mrs. Alvin T. Fuller.

A couple of future Harvardians born recently are Nicholas Fuller, son of Corp. and Mrs. Gilbert Fuller, Jr. (Faith Kidder) and Alexander Ellis Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dudley Dean, Jr. The Fuller baby, born Feb. 16 at Beverly Hospital, is a grandson of the Gilbert E. Fullers of Brimmer st., and the Alfred V. Kidders of Cambridge. Alexander Dean has a great-grandmother, Mrs. Frank O. Guild, of Newton, and grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Guild and Mrs. Paul Dudley Dean of Brookline.

A TEA for 145 Red Cross workers is being given at her home this afternoon by Mrs. Lawrence G. Brooks of West Medford. Guests include the West Medford solicitors in the Red Cross Drive.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

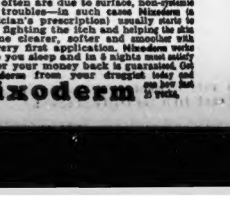

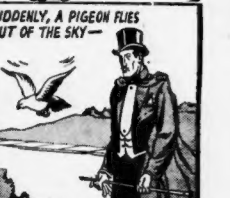

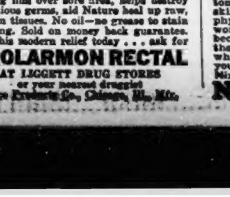

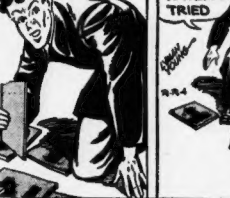

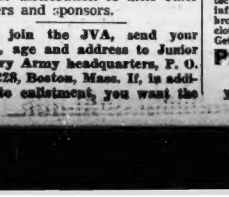

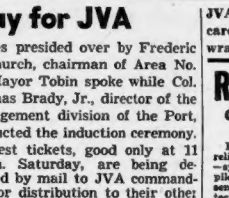

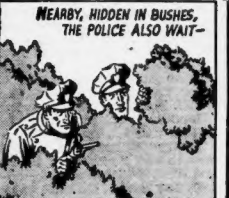

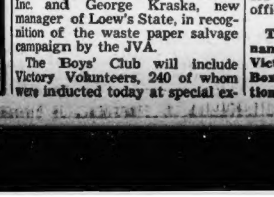

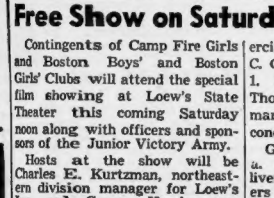

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

26 Kanaly Places Joie Ray At Top of Long Mile List

By HUCK FINNEGAN

The year 1911 will live long in Boston Athletic Ass'n annals. For it was then that Jack Ryder became head coach of the Unicorn, Clarence De Mar won his first B. A. A. Marathon, George L. Hunter donated the famous mile trophy, and yes—Tom Kanaly went to work for the club.

"George V. Brown hired me the day after De Mar won the Marathon," said the acting president of the Garden as he rolled up his sleeves preparatory to punching in the nose anybody who was looking for ice folies tickets. "I left in October, but George called me the day after Christmas and said: 'Our athletic organization is booming. The Olympics are coming up, and I'll need you permanently. What do you say?' I said 'Yes,' and went to work day after New Year's."

Joie Ray

Those were the halcyon days in BAA athletic history. At Kanaly's left hand a picture captured in 1912 Olympics. The athletes were: Tom Halpin, Blanchard, Eddie Farrell, Al Gutterson, Holden, Dave Enright, Jimmy Wendell, Dave Caldwell, Andy Sockalexis, Howard Drew, Marc Wright, Norman Taber, Oscar Hedlund, Oliver Johnstone. All except Wendell, Drew and Sockalexis were BAA members.

"Those were the days when Col. Billings, A. Paul Keith, Hunter and the rest used to sit around the club on Exeter st. They not only had it, but were good with it, and often sent the athletes to the Coast on money from their own pockets."

There were some great miles in those days—Oscar Hedlund, Abel Kiviat, John Paul Jones and Norman Taber. And so the Hunter Mile trophy came into being.

Caldwell Wins

It was the custom of the club to have its own standard bearer in the special events of the day, and Hedlund won the Hunter trophy in 1912. In 1916, however, the club's miler, Jack Ryan, took sick on Monday before the race and the BAA was left without a representative.

"Dave Caldwell had never run more than 1000 yards in his life," Kanaly recalls, "but Ryder told him on Monday he was going to run the mile. 'You'll kill me,' Caldwell protested, but in four days Ryder got him in shape and Dave surprised the world by winning the event."

"It was the most thrilling Hunter Mile of all time," Kanaly said. "Caldwell was last in a field of six starting the last lap at Mechanics Hall. He moved to fourth, to third, to second and nipped Mike Devaney at the tape in the short sprint from the last corner to the tape. Oh, how Devaney grunted. Claimed Caldwell didn't run the race at all, that he came out of the crowd at the tape. He just couldn't believe it."

That was the most memorable

Trosky Expects Draft Call

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (INS)—Harry Grabiner, vice-president of the Chicago White Sox, said today he had received word from Hal Trosky indicating that the big first baseman obtained by the Sox from the Cleveland Indians expected to be drafted.

He said that the migraine headaches which forced him out of baseball now had disappeared and that he was in first class health. He is married, has three children and conducts a large farm in Iowa.

set of games in Kanaly's long connection with the BAA. On the same night Bill Bingham emulated Caldwell and beat Johnny Overton at the tape in the H-Y 780-yard relay, final event on the program.

Went With Marines

"Poor Johnny went overseas with the Marines in '17 and never did come back," Kanaly said. It was in 1918 that Joie W. Ray started his extended winning streak (seven out of eight) broken only by Hal Cutbill in 1922. "Greatest little fellow and finest competitor I ever met," said Kanaly of the Kankakee Kid. "He was by far the best gate attraction in BAA history. If he said he'd break a record, he'd do it. He was his own best press agent, and the fans loved him for it. And his expense accounts were so modest I often wondered if he rode the rods."

"Remember when Nurmäl ran at the BAA meet in 1925?"

Who could forget it? "He wouldn't run the mile or three miles," Kanaly continued. "Insisted on running an exhibition 2000 meters, which meant nothing to the crowd. But they wanted to see him run, so we got him."

"Ray was a showman as well as an athlete," said Kanaly, "and I remember the announcer reading off the list of second raters who were going to oppose Nurmäl. Just as he was about to mention Nurmäl's name, Ray appeared on the floor in his gaudy Illinois A. C. sweat suit, and the applause for the little bantam was so loud and spontaneous that the announcer's voice was completely drowned out."

Kanly chuckled in retrospect, then concluded:

"Joie showed his appreciation by setting a new Boston mile record of 4:15.2. He was beyond his peak then, yet later in the winter got down to 4:12 to tie the record Nurmäl had set here. I often wonder how fast little Joie could have run if a Nurmäl had showed up five years earlier."

Combs Gets Leave

From Yanks for Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Silver haired Earl Bryan Combs will be missing from Yankee Stadium this season for the first time in 20 years, during which he participated in 11 World Series, as player and coach, with the New York American League Club.

Combs was granted a year's leave of absence by President Edward G. Barrow, to permit the Kentucky colonel to devote full time to his farms near Richmond, Ky.

Phillies Discuss Fate of Utica Team

UTICA, Feb. 24 (INS)—Joseph Reardon, head of the Philadelphia Phillies' farm system was to confer today with officials of the Utica Braves over the fate of the ball players under contract to the Utica team.

The Phillies have first claim on all Utica players but all must be sent contracts before March 1, or they will become free agents.

$9,862,629 Bet At Fair Grounds

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 24 (INS)—A total of $9,862,629 was bet in the mutuels during the 65-day winter racing meet at Fair Grounds, Albin Tazuer, secretary of the Louisiana Racing Commission, announced today.

Tazuer said the daily average was 151,732 and that total attendance for the meet was 160,988.

Dell Isola in Malden Teacher-Coach Berth

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Johnnie Dell Isola, a former schoolboy great when at Everett High School and until last fall the line coach at Dartmouth, will take over new duties as head of the physical education department and coach at the Malden High the first of the month.

Dell Isola will work with Coach Eddie Melanson on the football team and he'll take over as head coach of hockey.

Dell Isola had a star studded career on the gridiron since he first reported for football to Coach Dennie Gildea at Everett. As a sophomore in 1927, he was a first string guard. The following year he moved into the center berth where he was rated an All-Scholastic. He captained the team in a fullback in 1929, gaining All-Scholastic again as a ball carrier, to become one of the few boys in the state to make All teams in two positions.

FORDHAM ACE

He moved on to Fordham where he became an All-American lineman under Major Frank Cavanaugh and Jim Crowley, again becoming a regular in his sophomore year. He played on the All-East team in his senior year and then moved up to the New York professional Giants.

Dell Isola was prominently named as a possible choice as coach at Boston College when Frank Leahy left. Instead, he moved to Dartmouth as line coach to Tuss McLaughry. He stayed with the Green until the close of the 1943 season.

Dell Isola lives with his wife and two children in Malden. He's 4-F in the draft, the result of a football injury.

Twenty-six schools will be competing in the 21st annual South Shore basketball tournament which will open at the Brockton YMCA gym March 8, continuing through Saturday, March 18. Nine teams, including defending champion Abington, will battle it out for Class A honors. . . the other 17, in Class B, will be headed by Hanover High, attempting to retain its title. . . Turney Director Henry Willman has seeded Plymouth and Rockland on top in A and West Bridgewater and Hanover at the head of the pack in B.

Cambridge Latin and Leominster High Schools have open dates on their football schedules. . . The Cardinals, with a six-game slate, have openings Oct. 28, Nov. 4 and Nov. 23. . . Coach Charlie Broderick would like to meet Greater Boston teams on Sept. 23 and Nov. 4.

BAFEFOOT BOY IN MARINES

Coach Bill Cunningham of Roslindale High School lost a capable—and unusual—candidate for his basketball team when Martin Cain joined the U. S. Marines. . . Cain, a senior, was born and raised in Colon, Panama, and had been here only six months. . . while with the team, he never wore basketball shoes—played in his bare feet. . . Cain was slated for the starting center berth.

At least half a dozen top school stars from the Boston school ranks are considering trips to New York for the National Inter-scholastics.

Mystery Play

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 24 (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, staged a one-man mystery play here, slipping out of his hotel as quietly as he checked in, and without having seen Bob Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies, as he said he might when he arrived.

Carpenter said he had not heard from Rickey, had no appointment with him and did not know why he visited Wilmington.

Dodds Seen Ace Of U. S. Milers

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (INS)—Sole track star fully capable of making an assault on a major record in the current indoor season is Miller Gil Dodds, the Boston semimarian. Normally, there would be a small battalion of young men fighting good battles against the inexorable ticking of the stopwatch, but the war has narrowed down the field to one man in one event.

Judging from what has been seen in the Millrose, Boston A. A. and New York A. C. track meets, every record outside of the mile, with the possible exception of the high jump, is safe from the efforts of the current crop of athletes. Bill Vessie, the Dartmouth giant, and Sergt. Joshua Williamson, of Camp Holabird, have been duelling briskly at the high jump bar and might conceivably shatter the mark.

It is Dodds, however, who bears the load of enthusiasm radiated by record-hungry fans. There were 15,000 pairs of lungs urging on the star when he romped around the Madison Square Garden track last week in a 4:08 Baxter Mile, and every track fan in the country fully expects Gil to produce a new indoor mark before the season ends.

Bill Tordiglione In Feature Bout

Bill Tordiglione, North End, will be in trouble when he tangles with Larry Anzalone, Brooklyn, in one of the 10-round features of the Goodwin A. A. show in Mechanics Building tomorrow night.

In the other 10-rounders, Pat Demers, Brockton, will meet Tommy Murray, New York, and Francis Leonard, Taunton, will face Willie Roach, New York.

Giants Sign Weintraub

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—The New York Giants announced they had received the signed contract of Phil Weintraub, first baseman, obtained last year from the Toledo Club of the American Association. Weintraub, 3-A in the draft, is married and has two children.

COWLEY BACK FOR GARDEN TILT TUESDAY

The Bruins expect to have Bill Cowley back in the lineup Tuesday night when they return to Boston Garden after a two weeks' absence to meet the Toronto Leafs. With that end in view, Cowley will play sparingly if at all tonight in Ottawa in an exhibition game the Bruins are playing against an All Star team for the benefit of the R. S. A. F. Air Cadets Fund.

Art Ross does not plan to use Cowley against Canadiens at Montreal in the National League game scheduled there Saturday. He feels the additional rest will fit Cowley for the Boston game with the Leafs. Cowley will center for Buzz Boll and Herb Cain when he gets back into action, with Art Jackson playing the second line center for Norm Calladine and Bep Guidolin, and Russ Kopak centering for Busher Jackson and All Rittinger. Kopak is recovering from an injured leg and is due back in the Bruins' lineup for the game with Canadiens in Montreal.

Far from counting themselves out of the playoffs, the Bruins expect to fight the Chicago Blackhawks right down to the final game for the fourth place berth. They are confident that with Cowley fit, and playing his usual game, they will have sufficient scoring strength to edge the Chicago team.

Pepper Martin Back With Cards

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—John Lenard Martin, the old "Pepper," is coming back to his old gang, the St. Louis Cardinals, where he won fame as a purloiner of the bases.

"The wild horse of the Oase," whose lifetime batting average was .297 when he quit the big leagues in 1940, disclosed his plans after conferences with President Sam Breadon of the Cards.

He said he also had been offered a job as a radio sports announcer in St. Louis.

MORE VALUABLE TO GAME

"I feel—and I'm not throwing bouquets or glorifying myself—that I can contribute more to baseball by playing with St. Louis," Martin added.

He said that, although he'll be 40 next week, he figures there are still a few good games left in his creaking joints.

Beginning of spring training next month won't catch him behind with his work down on the farm in Oklahoma, either, Pepper said. He has everything in shape to leave and is raring to go.

Last year Pepper was playing manager of the Rochester, N. Y., club during 60 games. The Red Wings finished fifth.

BOSSED SACRAMENTO

Before that, in 1941 and 1942, he was boss of the Sacramento club in the Pacific Coast League. His team won the championship the first year.

Pepper ended his big league career with the Cards in 1940 after 11 seasons there. He played in three World Series engagements with the Redbirds, coming out with a batting average of .418. He also took part in three all-star games with the National League team.

Martin led the National League in stolen bases in 1933, 1934 and 1936.

Strangler Lewis Tackles Steer

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, who tossed many a big man during his tenure as world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will be outweighed by many hundreds of pounds in his match at a rodeo Sunday.

Lewis will try to toss a steer—just once—and there will be no time limit on the one fall.

Girl Success As School Coach

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 24 (AP)—"O. K. coach, all dressed!" comes a boy's voice. Miss Dorothy Douglas, marchess into the dressing room. "Now, men," she begins her pep talk to the Hoosick Falls High School basketball squad.

The team, coached by this 22-year-old girl, has won nine of eleven games. She also is head coach of football and baseball. Miss Douglas took over during the football season, after a plea from students, who had lost two male coaches to the armed forces.

"Gosh, no!" she said when asked whether boys object to a woman coach. "It was the boys who invited me to coach. I told them I could stand it if they could."

"They pulled through the football season, are smashing the basketball schedule, and are looking forward to baseball."

Golden Terror Pins White in Arena Clash

Pinning Ed "Strangler" White with a reverse arm lock and back fall at 7:11 in the third fall, the Golden Terror continued along undefeated in the mat final at the Boston Arena before a gathering of better than 5000.

Rebel Bob Russell and John "Drop-kick" Murphy went 30 minutes to a draw in the semi-final. John Kalkan downed Jim Spencer in one preliminary while the opener wound up in a 20 minute draw between Les Ryan and Frank Judson.

Vines Named Golf Pro at Denver

DENVER, Feb. 24 (INS)—Ellsworth Vines, one of the all-time greats of tennis, was to be named golf pro at the Denver Country Club today to succeed John Rogers, who held the job 17 years.

Vines said he had accepted the club's offer and would move to Denver from Los Angeles. Rogers, who came to Denver from the Shannopin Country Club at Pittsburgh, Pa., did not disclose his plans.

Wright-Finnegan Bout Approved

PANAMA, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Panama Boxing Commission today approved a March 5 bout between Chalky Wright of New York and Young Finnegan, under the promotion of Carlos Cambra.

Eddie Walker, manager of Wright, arrived with Mike Belloise, former featherweight champ, who will make his first Canal Zone appearance next month.

Rabbit Reveals Comeback Urge

DETROIT, Feb. 24 (INS)—Baseball will not reach the bottom of the manpower barrel until it pulls the rabbit out, Walter J. Maranville—the Rabbit, himself—asserted today.

The fiery little French-Irishman, who played more major league games than any other shortstop, still feels he has some good baseball left in him and he was never one to spare himself.

"I'm in good condition," Maranville said at the Ford plant, where he recently joined a gallery of former star athletes on the protection squad. "and I would be good for about three games a week with that gimpy leg I broke in 1924."

Grays Prexy Seeks Major Affiliation

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 24 (AP)—Directors of the old Williamsport Grays, preparing to bring organized baseball back to this city, have decided to seek a working agreement with a major league club before bidding for the vacant Springfield, Mass., franchise of the Eastern League.

The Grays dropped out of the Eastern League in 1942 and a movement to bring the Springfield franchise here has been under way for some time. President Walden said a major league connection will be necessary so players can be obtained.

Warmerdam in N. A. A. U. Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (INS)—The only man in the world who ever vaulted 15 feet or more, Ensign Cornelius Warmerdam will defend his National AAU championships Saturday night in Madison Square Garden.

The champion announced in a letter that he had arranged for a 48-hour leave from his commanding officer at Monmouth College, Illinois. Competing against Warmerdam will be Jack de Field, of Minnesota, and Corp. Milton Padway, stationed in Illinois.

Tacoma Fans Wait on Cards

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 24 (AP)—Tacoma baseball supporters still maintain they own the Sacramento franchise of the Pacific Coast League for which they sent $50,000 last week to Sam Breadon of St. Louis.

R. D. Maxwell, chairman of the group, said no official notice had been received from either Clarence Rowland, league president, or Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, who owned the club, verifying reports that Breadon, with league approval, had agreed at a meeting in Los Angeles Tuesday, to sell the franchise to a Sacramento group who raised, by popular subscription, sufficient money to buy it.

Joe Tinker Up And About House

—ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Back at his lakeside home here recuperating from illness which kept him in a hospital four weeks, one-time baseball star Joe Tinker said, "They just about gave me up for a while but I managed to pull through again."

He has recovered sufficiently from influenza and complications to take short walks about his place. Several years ago he placed a successful battle against a similar illness.

Start New Drive

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Feb. 24 (AP)—Great Lakes' high scoring basketball team, their win streak stopped at 21 straight Saturday, beat the National A. A. U. champion Phillips quintet last night to start their new victory drive.
